Why Danver

Who We Are

Danver is the pursuit of perfection. We fuse classic design with forward-thinking evolution, creating sophisticated lifestyles built on quality and the finest craftsmanship. Every detail is a testament to our unwavering dedication to excellence.

As the unrivaled leader in stainless steel outdoor kitchens, we don't just craft beautiful kitchens—we build lasting partnerships, empowering dealers, trades and professionals to bring bold visions to life. We deliver tailored solutions, expert insights, and unmatched quality, ensuring every project is executed with precision.

At Danver, your vision fuels our passion, and craftsmanship meets innovation to redefine what's possible.

Our Vision

Danver's vision for the future is simple. We will remain dedicated to our brand story and committed to bringing the indoors to the outside by: constantly innovating, discovering solutions based on market needs, exploring new and fresh colors and styles, and supporting our partners and customers.

Every design is a journey. We can't wait for what's next.

Unrivaled Craftsmanship

At Danver, design is a shared journey. We transform your vision into reality, crafting not just extraordinary outdoor spaces but unforgettable experiences.

With dozens of styles in hundreds of sizes, as well as a multitude of powder coat finishes, any design is possible. Combined, our in-house designers have decades of experience with kitchen design – and they are more than happy to be your personal resource.

Our Brands

As the outdoor kitchen leaders, our success has nurtured unrivaled partnerships with:

Brown Jordan - the leaders in outdoor furniture

Trex Company - the leaders in composite decking

Each brand is manufactured side by side in our Connecticut factory, distinguished by collections, door styles, and finishes.

Breaking Tradition

As outdoor cooking and entertaining needs evolved, an industry-defining question was asked:

What if the beauty and conveniences of the indoor kitchen were brought to the outdoors?

With one major goal in mind, Danver perfected the approach of bringing color, style, design, and function from the indoors to the outdoors by transforming outdoor living spaces around the world.

Handcrafted Cabinetry

Every component of your kitchen is touched by human hands, from the first bend of stainless steel to the final assembly and quality evaluation.

We consider our door styles and construction to be the finest artistry in the outdoor kitchen world. We handcraft our stainless steel doors with individual powder coated pieces for a seamless and beautiful finish.

Expertly Engineered Solutions

We can accommodate nearly all outdoor appliances – grills, power burners, griddles, smokers, and more – into the design.

Our attention to detail guarantees a seamless fit for a variety of appliances. For an all-inclusive space, include amenities like a trash, sink, fridge, kegerator, wine cooler, and ice maker.

We work with a variety of high-end appliance brands for the best in design and function.

Endless Configurations

We have solutions for every outdoor footprint, whether the project calls for a built-in look or if the sky is the limit for size and shape.

Popular solutions include straight runs, L-shapes, U-shapes, islands, bar-height seating, but we work with the space to design the best possible solution.

Door Styles

With our goal to bring the indoors out, we've cultivated styles that mirror traditional indoor kitchen cabinetry.

From classic shaker styles to modern designs with integrated handles, our door styles bring a sophisticated look to your cabinetry.

Powder Coat Finishes

Color and style are at the heart of our brand story.

Our award-winning color collection runs the gamut from bright and bold to subdued and neutral, textured, metallic - and everything in between.

Our powder coat finishes reduce maintenance of your cabinetry to a bare minimum while offering a vibrant and saturated hue.

Wood Grain Options

Better believe it's stainless steel! Offered in a range of colors and grain patterns, our wood grain powder coat finishes offer the look of wood with the outdoor durability of stainless steel.

The Design Journey

When you work with Danver, you are choosing best-in-class support from design to delivery.

Every project is made to order, taking a journey through the skills and expertise of our designers, engineers, and the craftsmen in our factory - all the way to your front door.

Bringing Visions to Life

From the initial planning to post-installation, we bring outdoor kitchen visions to life with an effortless design process. We have an international network of inside salespeople, dealers, and sales representatives who provide expert support, tailored solutions, and high-quality service.

We offer a multitude of resources, including our specification and installation guides, multiple training sessions, as well as an extensive library of 3D models in a variety of drawing programs.

Dealers

Danver Dealers take an active role in learning about our products to provide well-developed designs and excellent customer service.

To that end, we are fully committed to supporting our Dealers and maintaining a lucrative and successful partnership.

Trades & Professionals

Danver has worked alongside trades and professionals for decades, keeping us at the forefront of the industry.

We work with architects, landscape architects, designers, builders, and more in the pursuit of elegant outdoor living spaces.

Multi-Family

We offer a variety of solutions for trades and professionals to accommodate the unique needs of their multi-family and commercial projects, including ADA-compliant cabinetry and solutions that guarantee accessibility for all.

Hospitality

Danver is thrilled to be the top choice for hospitality environments.

Our rolling carts combine our traditional cabinetry with mobility for catered events or seasonal venues.

We recognize the value of providing the highest quality service and entertainment, ensuring your customers receive top-notch service every time.

Outdoor Living

Danver Outdoor Living is a line of products designed to enhance outdoor spaces and provide opportunities to match storage, seating, and more items to Danver's premium outdoor kitchens.

Our Outdoor Living products use the same durable stainless steel as our cabinetry and are powder coated for minimal maintenance and easy care.

Elevated Design for Today and Beyond

Danver has been the standard in high-performance stainless steel outdoor kitchens for over 25 years. With exceptional customer care and our team of experts, we have been providing professionals of all disciplines with industry-leading solutions and the flexibility to create signature outdoor kitchens anywhere.

Working with Danver guarantees support at every step of the process, offering an extraordinary service experience and the freedom to create beautiful spaces that will be sources of design inspiration for years to come.

Thank You!
